This is about the world monetary banking system. I am bringing it down in light of its greed. The power will shift from a former God fearing nation and be turned over to the Godless where power will reside till my return.

The Lord is doing this. It will last for a long time.

We have yet to see anything close to pain.

He has turned the greedy over to their greed and they will reap the fruits of their labors and be judged by the Godless for their misappropriation of power in the world.

There will be no repentance for this. The full brunt of judgment is at hand.

The Bride will escape by not participating in the system but following the path of Joseph and Noah.

Your trust in the systems of men will fail you. You will go here and you will look there yet you will not find things as they were when you laid your head to rest the night before.

Those with ears will seek me now and I will bring them wisdom and understanding.

Be not wise in your own eyes, lean not on your own understanding because what is coming you have never seen. But when you see it you will know and you will regret the wasted time and forsaken wisdom.

Pay now for what will be unaffordable then.

This is a storm that few saw coming and still fewer believe will have any impact.

From where does it blow? Where did it originate? The outer bands have begun to make landfall. You have plenty of warning to flee the coast before it comes down in full force. Flee your house built on the sand and seek solid ground.
