

2-21-10

I made you a great nation. A seed of moral integrity planted in good soil. I endowed you with understanding of my sovereignty in life and the freedom contained therein. I granted you wisdom to bring the ingenious and innovative to the light of day and in that you flourished and were prosperous. I was pleased to help you as you were my vessel for the furtherance of the light of the gospel to the world; That the sins of man were no longer being counted against them.

The wisdom I granted and the prosperity I placed in you afforded you the roll to rule and reign, to bring to the world the virtue and wisdom of serving the True and Righteous One who blesses those who seek him. I blessed you for your hard work and devotion to me.

My face I call you to seek but over the generations you came to prefer my hand. And so imitators of my blessing rose up among you, offering abstractions of what my hand had brought to you. Their hand held out to you, rich and promising ease, you took from it thinking it was still mine. You were exhorted to be in the world and not of the world. Now I have given those who's hand you trusted in over to their own lusts for power and desire for wealth, they will be crushed under the weight of their own greed and will not repent. Come out from them.

The second wave of the of the economic tsunami is approaching your shores, yet who has prepared dwellings in high places away from destruction? Who has prepared? Abject poverty and famine surely knocks at your door but there are few store houses or true savings. It will rush in and consume all just as the flood of Noah's day rushed the unprepared. Disasters are going to continue to pile up as my wrath begins to boil. Ignoring the signs of this season will not make the season go away.

I seek a remnant among the many to rise up and seek my face now, to reject the hand of imitators; before the flood, before the panic, before the indebted seek to bring tax upon my bride. Be mindful with a watchful eye towards rulers in need of cash as they watch you.

I am going to turn the tables, I am calling you out now. I will consume the riches that aren't riches and destroy the trusts that aren't trustworthy.

*It has been said that God has it all under control but, is it granted to God, by those who call themselves of the faith, to at His discretion change the pieces of the puzzle
that are so confidently claimed to be under His control, to reflect something that can't be controlled to propel His people to true faith?*

Wouldn't that be the very nature of God to prove to His people that they don't control anything?

Wouldn't it be in the very nature of God to cause His people to release control over the very things they say God has control over?

Rev 18:4 Then I heard another voice from heaven say:

"Come out of her, my people,
so that you will not share in her sins,
so that you will not receive any of her plagues;
5 for her sins are piled up to heaven,
and God has remembered her crimes.
