

5-14-10

Come together in unity of the Spirit, in love and fellowship of my blood. Tear down the walls that divide and be one as I have commanded. Draw together to seek my face, to petition me for what is Holy, pure, and true. Come together to glorify me as the bride I desire. Celebrate Me!!!

Look at the days that surround you, look at the folly of man as he seeks to fix what he will not heed of me. These days are evil and mans fix to his problems are to give himself more by enslaving others, blaming and dividing. Have nothing to do with this.

Be about the work of the Kingdom to come. Show your love to me by opening up to one another, confessing sin and lifting up the Son of glory in faith. Do not say I am of Calvin, I am of Luther, I have never endorsed your identity with men and the separations created, I have merely worked within the limitations you set.

Drop the walls of doctrinal divides at the door of Unity in the Son. Be washed in His blood and unified in the Spirit. To fail is to die alone and miss out on my power that will be shown among you.

NOT MY WILL.

I will show you my power in your obedience.
