

IF THIS IS ALL THERE IS

If this is all there is

If this is all there is

High rise buildings and a desk job.

Hard work and maybe some money.

If this is all there is

If this is all there is

Four months to keep up with fashion.

Or fast cars that don't take me nowhere.

If this is all there is

If this is all there is

I want to feel that I'm deeply loved. and I want to love someone the same. I want to feel that there's more to life. Than things that pass away.

If this is all there is

If this is all there is

Six figures yearly and a pension.

Or six thousand square feet in the suburbs.

WHERE IS HOME?

All alone through life I roam.

Traveling far, I never know.

Where is Home?

Where is Home?

Where is Home?

It's so far will I ever know?

This lonely place, like outer space.

I search the world but there's not a trace.

Where is Home?

Where is Home?

Where is Home?

It's so far will I ever know?

A home is a nice place, so warm and secure. I don't find it any where here.

I'll search until my dying day.

So remote, my feelings float. I feel I'm in a sinking boat.

Where is home?

Where is home?

Where is home?

It's so far will I ever know?

IN ON THE INSIDE

I've been in on the inside.

I've been out in the crowd.
I have known all the secrets and then been shut out.
I've heard the cries of the lonely. I have walked with the lost.
I have danced with pretension. And then paid the cost.
But I found the secret of life. If you seek it,
You'll find the secret in time.
I have stood on the mountains.
Swam the depths of the sea.
I have done what I wanted and still not been free.
But I found the secret of life. If you seek it,
You'll find the secret in time.
I have done it wrong and done it right.
I've walked the roads of darkness and light. The cards are dealt and then I play.
I've win, I lose but never fade.
No, I never fade!
Cuz' I found the secret of life. Do you seek it?
You'll find the secret in time.
I've been in on the inside
I've been out in the crowd
I've been in on the inside
Known all of the secrets,
I've done what I wanted.
And still not been free, not been free.
In on the inside or the outside, who cares, What side's the up side or down side. God's sight, eye sight.
Gotta have eye sight inside.

HOPE FOR ME NOW

It's a scary world to live in...
When my family doesn't see me eye to eye.
It's a scary world to live in...
When I feel alone 'cuz no one seems to care.
It's a scary world to live in...
When the future shows it's face to be despair.
Hope for me now
I need, hope for me now To stand on.
It's a scary world to live in...
When I find it hard to trust my fellow man.
It's a scary world to live in...
When I'm inclined to give it all away.
Hope for me now
I need, hope for me now To stand on.
Yesterday has gone by. Tomorrow's past a blinked eye. But, I need the strength,
I need the strength,

I need the strength,
to stand today.
'cuz yesterdays' tomorrow is today.

THE LINES WE'VE DRAWN

How close can we get before, we cross the lines drawn between us? How close can we get before,
All the lines we've drawn are gone.
All the lines we've drawn are gone.
I hear you knock, You know I hear.
This fear that keeps me from drawing near. How close can we get before,
All the lines we've drawn are gone.
All the lines we've drawn are gone.
So far it's safe, no one gives in.
We're pushing boundaries, to see how we fit. How do we fit?
As our circles intertwine, yours and mine now ours. We work to overcome the boundaries of the heart. the boundaries of a wandering heart.

TRUST

This place called trust, hides in us.
And because of the burns and scars, it gathers dust. This place called trust.
This place called trust.
There's a place inside, I find that I reside from time to time.
It's a spacious room, unseen by most, and touched by very few.
But it's a place that I would love to share with you.
If you look inside the children's trusting eyes you'll see the light.
It's from a little room that your invited to until you lie. Then the door is closed to help the soul survive.
I keep my deepest treasures locked inside this cell, and still it's breached by words that promise all is well. If I believe, I trust, but trust is like the wind.
It can fly a kite, to the greatest heights, or blow your world within.
This place called trust.

MERRIMAC WAY

Back in the time I learned to see the actors, [back in the time]
Still gullibly fumbling to the music's face. [face the music]
Fresh revelation of the products' factor. [taking me blind]
Coming to life at a frantic pace.
One summer down on Merrimac Way. My eyes were opened up to the truth. One summer down on Merrimac Way. When the Crime of the Century was new. One summer down,

One summer down on Merrimac Way. One summer down,
One summer down on Merrimac Way.
Never before was I intrigued with actors. [never saw the face]
But suddenly seeing that they wear a face. [face the music]
That every motivation doesn't always factor. [one and one equals three]
Helped me to see that I should scrutinize the human race.
One summer down on Merrimac Way. My eyes were opened up to the truth. One summer down on Merrimac Way. When the Crime of the Century was new. One summer down,
One summer down on Merrimac Way. One summer down,
One summer down on Merrimac Way.
A little different than the wintertime. This summer of '75?
Told to face the music all the time. On an August day.
I did hear you say.

TOMORROW

I place no promise in tomorrow.
Although tomorrow boasts a better day.
I find my work within the moment I have now, is tomorrow's' dream today.
Or my tomorrow fades away.
The sun will come out tomorrow.
The optimistic herald.
With no light to guide me where I am, My steps will falter before dawn.
I place no promise in tomorrow.
Although tomorrow boasts a better day.
I find my work within the moment I have now, is tomorrow's' dream today.
Or my tomorrow fades away.
Well maybe will win tomorrow,
The optimistic borrow.
There's no lender to a time unseen. But I have this moment here today.
Although it's amazing what a year can yield. As a harvest of moments strung together.
And it's not like I'm not hopeful for a better day. It's just that tomorrow's' a hope and every tomorrow starts today.

THE PORCH LIGHT

I said some things I know were wrong, but I can't tell you because your gone. So, the porch light is shinning for you.
Sometimes I wish the heart could speak, the spirits willing, the flesh is weak.
So the porch light is shinning for you. Yea the porch light is shinning for you. Only the light can see me through. Only the light can see me through.
Sometimes we'd hammer and sometimes we saw.

Sometimes there was no foundation at all. And the welcome mat gets walked upon, as you walk away,

The porch light shines on.

A home is built on common dreams. A solid framework for love to cling. So the porch light is shining for you. So the porch light is shining for you.

GLIMPSES OF THE TRUTH

What's in the Truth that keeps me from it ?

Sand in my hands falling through the cracks of my fingers.

Oh I'm catching some grains but I'm never taking hold. What is it ? It's never the same twice, but I always understand.

The glimpses of the Truth, fuel the fire of my hope. The glimpses of the Truth, shimmers on the shining sea.

The glimpses....., the glimpses.....

The glimpses of Truth I see.

There was a time I claimed to hold of it.

The raging waters I'd try to hold in my hands. Well I was getting real wet, but never get control. I know it, this voice of the present tense, but I know that it isn't mine.

I can't hold on to the light from the sun.

The flames from the fire or the water in the sea;

But the Truth that remains in my heart

Keep me searching, looking for another glimpse again.

for another glimpse again.

I'M LOOKIN UP

I'm an upward looker. Hopin' for the better Following the beat of my heart.

Though life gets tougher, never saying never, Keeps me from falling apart.

Cuz I've been down but I have found that its just like drivein' in park.

Though the engines revin' I can't chase the things that I want.

So, I'm looking up in life. Hoping for the best.

I'm looking up in life, Test by test.

Yes, I'm looking up in life. Following success

I'm looking up in life

I will never rest.

I feel the waves of the ocean crashing on the notion. that I don't have to lay in the mud.

I hear the voice on the inside silencing the rip tide saying hey it's up you bud.

But when it all comes down I can swim or drown. But I will have to choose in the flood.

Yes, I know if I'm drowning my answer come from above.

Each day raises a mountain.

And I know that it's my lot to climb, Although, I struggle and strive,
I know the view will be worth the climb Yes I know that it's my lot to climb. For the fabulous view I'll find.

FOLLOW YOUR DREAMS

Follow your dreams 'till they deliver.

Rise up and walk when you fall down.

Follow your dreams 'till they deliver.

We can dare to dream great dreams right now. We can dare to dream great dreams right now.

In the morning as you rise, You face the lighted sky,

You walk the line to tomorrow.

Can dreams be realized, when the light becomes your guide? Be wise with time that you borrow.

When there's longing in your eyes, and dissenters call you blind.

You have to strive, beg or borrow. When they say we live our lives

When they say we live our lives Under capricious skies.

Don't take the lie to the marrow

And if your oasis becomes a mirage, don't deny your thirst.

Your wading through daydreams and nightmares. The road is to dig for what's inside.
